

2007 Second Session is off to a fine start with the new George Kjaer classroom and Renee Wyser-Pratte coldworking facility so new we can still smell the paint drying and we look forward to filling those rooms with furniture, equipment and students! We hardly have time to catch our breath as the 5th Annual FlameOff date gets closer and closer, then right into 8th Annual Art Glass Auction and Benefit dinner! As if that wasn't exciting enough, we have several fabulous new instructors coming this session, and of course we have our oldies but goodies. Oh, and the holiday's are coming, so it's a good thing we finally broke down and got some more office help, cause the joint-is-jumpin'!

As always we would like to thank our students and supporters who have chosen the Eugene Glass School as the place to undertake their artistic education within the glass medium. Thank you for supporting and becoming a part of our vision! We want to encourage you to stay or become involved with Eugene Glass School (now is the time!!) and sign up to volunteer, become a member, rent shop time, and come down to experience some of our fantastic classes and workshops this session. Support the arts by supporting Eugene Glass School. You are sure to have a rewarding experience that will change your life!

OUR MISSION

The mission of the Eugene Glass School is to promote individual and artistic growth in art and craft, and to increase awareness and appreciation of glass art in the larger community and society.

In carrying out its mission, the Eugene Glass School will provide educational opportunities, creative expression and exploration of the art glass medium to emerging and professional artists, as well as beginning students, educators and collectors in the Eugene/Springfield area, the State of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest.

FUNDS & SCHOLARSHIPS

The Renee Wyser-Pratte Memorial Fund; in loving memory of our former president, this fund will supply a new Coldworking Studio to Eugene Glass School in Renee's honor.

The George C.D. Kjaer Memorial Fund; in loving memory of our former president, this fund will supply a new classroom and gallery to the Eugene Glass School in George's honor.

As part of our commitment to the community, and in order to encourage students who choose not to take the traditional academic route, EGS offers scholarships and awards to attract new students and to assist outstanding students; however, our funds are limited.

The Debbie St. Denis Scholarship Fund helps those beginner students who can't afford to take classes. This scholarship is awarded based upon need and availability.

The Becky Winship Scholarship Fund provides students one-time scholarships for youth 18 and under for a beginner borosilicate flameworking class.

Donations for scholarship funds are gladly accepted and can be sent to :

Eugene Glass School, 575 Wilson St, Eugene OR 97402

For information on scholarship opportunities, call us at (541)342-2959, send us a resume outlining your specific goals and needs, or download a scholarship application at www.eugeneglassschool.org.

GALLERY HOURS

The Eugene Glass School gallery is open Mon-Sat from 10am-5pm, call for appointment on Sunday. Stop by to check out glass art made by our instructors and resident artists or get a tour of the recently upgraded facility. If you are involved in an organization that would like to bring a group, please call to arrange a special event or demonstration.
